—Judge Fitzgerald and Frank Boskowitz nearly froze to death near Eureka a few days ago.

—The man whose ticket got one solitary vote at a primary held in this city some years ago, is still talking about the "light vote" of last Saturday's primary.

—John Hanson, who built the river mills years ago, and has been away from Carson many years, paid the APPEAL office a call yesterday. He remarked that the office towel had not been washed since his absence.

—An Illinois wretch attempted to outrage his daughter, and killed his wife who attempted to interfere. Some smart lawyer will clear this man on a technicality and then be alluded to in the papers as a "shining light of the bar."

—That feeling of weariness, so often experienced in the Spring, results from a sluggish condition of the blood, which, being impure, does not quicken with the changing season. Ayer's Sarsaparilla, by vitalizing and cleansing the blood, strengthens and invigorates the system.

—Ten young women in Reno have just sprang into notoriety by engaging in a public gum chewing match. The winner was a Miss Mansey, who chewed eighteen boxes. The present gum chewing craze is calculated to cause sensible people to pray for an epidemic of lockjaw that will sweep the country.

—It will be seen by an announcement in another column that Archer Baker has opened business for himself in the brick building opposite Cohn's store. Mr. Baker is well known in this city as a square man and good judge of groceries, and he proposes to keep nothing but the very best of everything that can be had at prices within reach of all.

The Race.

The Chronicle has this about the race:

A majority of the spectators claim the race was a job, and that Bethune could easily have defeated Musgrove if it had been to his interest to do so.

The heaviest losers on the "race" charge Bethune's backers with having conspired with that famous sprinter to fleece them out of their coin, and that the money bet on Musgrove was put up by the "Bethune conspirators." The unexpected outcome of the race bankrupted a number of prominent patrons of athletic sports, who have preferred special request that their names be suppressed.

Out of a score or two of prominent residents of the Comstock interviewed, who were on the ground at Reno yesterday and bet on Bethune only one was found who acknowledged he attended the race. The man with the sack is said to have dropped nearly $2,400 in coin, wagered on the losing contestant. Several of Bethune's backers who were shrewd enough to suspect a "job," quit even by "bedging."

The Chronicle seems quite astonished that the Comstock sports should be outwitted by the Carson sports. The Comstockers put up a neat little job to clean out Carson and Reno and got left because they lack experience in such affairs. People shouldn't bet on tips given by amateur managers.

Dr. Bishop's Funeral.

The funeral of Dr. Bishop will take place tomorrow in Reno at the Episcopal Church. The train will leave here at 11 o'clock. He will be buried under the auspices of the Grand Army, and delegates from the various orders will visit Reno to participate.

What Made Him Tire.

Hon. Wm. Woodburn telegraphed from Washington to R. H. Lindsay, of Reno, as follows:

Have concluded not to run for Congress. Am tired of fighting men in our party. Nominate a winner. W. WOODBURN.

CHEAP IRRIGATION.

Dr. Herrick's Method Worth Considering.

Dr. Herrick has been experimenting with the irrigation question until he has hit on an excellent plan for irrigating ten acres of ground at small expense. He sank a well at 260 feet deep on his place and succeeded in getting a flow of fifteen gallons per minute, which ran into a pit 30 feet long, 10 deep and 10 wide.

This gives 3,000 cubic feet which runs into the tank every twenty-four hours. It is lined with two-inch plank and made water tight.

He then introduces the mechanical Chinese pump, which is a series of buckets running on an endless belt over two wheels. It is worked by a horse and whim, and empties the tank in one hour. This amount of water used daily will fully irrigate ten acres of land. His land is very rich, and every foot of it will yield.

While men are experimenting on the irrigation problem they would do well to examine into this method which promises good results.

By digging a 20-foot well and raising the water with a windmill several acres can be irrigated. The Chinese pump, however, lifts water faster than any known contrivance of the same cost. Dr. Herrick is, we believe, the first rancher in the State to adopt it. Such a pump and whim costs about $150.

District Court.

In the District Court yesterday, Judge Rising presiding, the case of the State of Nevada against George C. Campbell, was called for trial. Upon motion of the District Attorney Campbell was permitted to go upon his own recognizance, and the case passed for one month.

The case of H. C. Dunn vs. John Furlong; tried and taken under advisement.

The case of John Sweeney vs. Otto Schulz, et al; passed.

State of Nevada vs. Hoodley, Treasurer of Eureka; submitted on briefs. Defendants given 10 days to answer.

M. C. Gardner vs. Geo. L. Dies; plaintiff authorized to sue garnishees.

S. P. Davis vs. Otto Schulz; Passed.

S. P. Davis vs. Reffetto; Passed.

Estate of Eliza Adams; administrator ordered to sell real estate at private sale.

Tangerman vs. Young, et al; Passed.

Grand Jury reported one true bill against Jose Antone for burglary.

Bill against John Perry; Engraged.

Eureka vs. Lander County; Passed.

Reinhart and Delbanco vs. Junkins and Bradshaw; Passed.

Winkler vs. Winkler; divorce granted a failure to provide.

Jose Antone pleaded guilty of burglary and was sentenced for two years.

Norrie Hit It Right.

The other day Norrie the dividing rod man who claims to be able to tell how far below the ground water is to be found, heard that Mr. Danhauser was sinking a well on his premises in the South Western part of the town and visited the spot to make a test.

They were about fifteen feet down and he told them they would strike water at about 20 feet.

They laughed at the idea as they expected no water short of fifty. He remained to verify his conclusions and they struck a flow at 19 feet which at once rose twelve feet in the well.

PACIFIC COAST ITEMS.

—The British Columbia Legislature was prorogued Saturday.

—San Francisco is to have a public tower nearly 500 feet high.

—The Fort Bragg Redwood Company's saw-mill was burned on Saturday. Loss, $50,000.

—Steve Frost, a quarrelsome negro, was fatally stabbed with a pocket knife in the hands of John Mehan, at Red Bluff, Sunday night.

—A man giving the name of William Henry, was captured almost in the act of breaking open a safe at San Diego, Saturday morning.

—There was a collision of two freight trains near Truckee, Saturday. Both engines and cars were smashed and fifty feet of snow-sheds demolished.

—S. F. Report: It is expected that within a few days a contract will be closed for a concentrating plant for use by the principal mines in the Tuscarora district.

—Mrs. Julia E. Jennings, relict of the late Rev. George Jennings, at one time stationed at Tuscarora, died in San Francisco on the 24th instant. Her age was 71 years.

—At Fort McDermitt, last week a Pute Indian named Sketa Ike committed suicide by eating wild parsnip. Domestic trouble, "all the same as a white man," was the verdict.

—Mrs. Adeline Thomas, a resident of Truckee, has fallen heir to a portion of the Hall estate of $750,000 recently settled in the English Court of Chancery after pending since 1797. Mrs. Thomas' share is about $85,000.

—A report has been received at Nogales of another encounter with Yaqui Indians by Mexican troops, in which twenty-one Indians were killed and one wounded. The disproportion of the wounded to the killed leads to the belief that the battle was really a massacre.

—The report that the Mullan tunnel on the Northern Pacific road is not secure is denied. The recent fire in the snowsheds blocked the entrance and did some injury, but the damage is only a few thousand dollars. Trains meanwhile are running over the switchback.

—The miners of New River district Trinity county, held a meeting recently to arrange for the employment of a physician and surgeon to reside there. It was agreed to levy a per capita tax of sufficient sum to give the physician a reasonable salary and accord him the privilege of practicing outside the camps.

The Latest About the War.

Dr. J. William Jones, Confederate soldier and chaplain, who is writing an interesting series of war papers—"The Men in Gray"—explains in his latest paper the causes which led to the surrender of Lee's army. "Was not that grand old army really worn out? Not conquered, but wearied out with victory; forced to surrender by the result of a series of victories which astonished the world."

This is a fair sample of the feeling that a good many Southerners have about the war. They will accept this explanation as the solution of the whole mystery of defeat, but it sounds a good deal like the boy who "quit fighting because he was tired out licking the other fellow."

Dr. Bishop's Remains.

BUTTE, Montana, April 30.—The body of Dr. Alva C. Bishop, whose death occurred on Thursday last from the effects of a fall received at the Turn-Verein gymnasium, was to-day shipped to Reno, Nevada, for interment. The widow and two children, and W. W. Bishop of San Francisco, brother of the deceased, accompanied the remains. Dr. Bishop was long a resident of Nevada and Utah. He was a member of the Grand Army of the Republic and several secret organizations, which turned out today, making a large escort of the remains of their dead comrade to the depot.

—Ayer's Pills are the best cathartic for correcting irregularities of the stomach and bowels. Gently yet thorough in their action, they cure constipation, stimulate the appetite and digestive organs, and strengthen the system.
